WHO AND WHY?

I find purpose in creating collaborative spaces where those gathered feel inspired by individual and collective vulnerabilities and are empowered by their comfort with discomfort. It took five+ years, becoming a mother, leaving the city, moving to the mountains, and starting a company in rural North Carolina to find my artistic joy as a facilitator. Today, I wish only to be a part of daring rooms that start theatrical conversations to elevate the collective mind, heart, and identity of its participants.
